2. DEFINITIONS RELATED TO PERSONAL DATA.

Personal data: Any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (hereinafter: "data subject"). An identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, number, location data, online identifier, or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural, or social identity of that natural person.

Data processing: Any operation or set of operations performed on personal data or on data sets, whether by automated or non-automated means. This includes collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure, transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure, or destruction.

Data transfer: Making data accessible to a specified third party.

Disclosure: Making data accessible to anyone.

Data controller: A natural or legal person, public authority, agency, or any other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data. Where the purposes and means of processing are determined by Union or Member State law, the controller or the specific criteria for its designation may also be determined by such law.

Data processor: A natural or legal person, public authority, agency, or any other body which processes personal data on behalf of the data controller.

Erasure (deletion) of data: Rendering data unrecognisable in such a way that their restoration is no longer possible.

3. PRINCIPLES OF DATA PROCESSING.

In accordance with Article 5 of the GDPR, the Data Controller ensures that personal data are:

- a) Lawfully, fairly, and transparently processed
- Personal data shall be processed lawfully, fairly, and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject ("lawfulness, fairness and transparency").
- b) Collected for specified purposes
- Personal data shall be collected for specified, explicit, and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes. Further processing for archiving in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes, or statistical purposes shall not be considered incompatible with the initial purposes ("purpose limitation").
- c) Data minimisation
- Personal data shall be adequate, relevant, and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed ("data minimisation").
- d) Accuracy
- Personal data shall be accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date. Every reasonable step must be taken to ensure that inaccurate personal data are erased or rectified without delay ("accuracy").
- e) Storage limitation
- Personal data shall be kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects only for as long as necessary for the purposes of processing. Personal data may be stored for longer periods only where they will be processed solely for archiving in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes, or statistical purposes, subject to appropriate technical and organisational

- measures to safeguard the rights and freedoms of data subjects ("storage limitation").
- f) Integrity and confidentiality
- Personal data shall be processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction, or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures ("integrity and confidentiality").

4. ADDITIONAL SAFEGUARDS PROTECTING THE DATA SUBJECT.

Every individual has the right:

to receive information about their personal data and the processing thereof (right of access);

to request the restriction of processing by the Data Controller where one of the following applies:

(a) the data subject contests the accuracy of the personal data, for a period enabling the Data Controller to verify the accuracy of the data;

(b) the processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the data and requests the restriction of their use instead;

(c) the Data Controller no longer needs the personal data for processing purposes, but the data subject requires them for the establishment, exercise, or defence of legal claims; or

(d) the data subject has objected to processing; in this case, the restriction applies for the period until it is determined whether the legitimate grounds of the Data Controller override those of the data subject;

in justified cases, to request the rectification or erasure of their personal data without undue delay (right to be forgotten). The Data Controller shall inform all recipients to whom the personal data have been disclosed of any rectification, erasure, or restriction of processing, unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. Upon request, the Data Controller shall inform the data subject about these recipients.

In the case of data processing based on consent, the data subject has the right to receive the personal data concerning them, which they have provided to Modern Alkotók Galériája Kft., in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format, and has the right to transmit those data to another data controller. The exercise of this right shall not adversely affect the right to erasure (right to be forgotten) and shall not negatively affect the rights and freedoms of others.

The data subject has the right to seek legal remedy if their request for information, communication, rectification, or erasure—provided for by law—is not fulfilled.

Upon request, the Data Controller shall provide information about:

the personal data processed by it or by a data processor acting on its behalf,

the purpose, legal basis, and duration of the processing, the name and address (registered office) of the data processor and its activities related to data processing, and the recipients of the data and the purposes of such data transfers.

The Data Controller shall provide this information in writing, in a clear and understandable form, as soon as possible, but no later than 30 days from the submission of the request. In case of a violation of their rights, the data subject may bring a claim before a court against the Data Controller. The Data Controller shall be liable for any damage caused to others by unlawful data processing or by failure to comply with data security requirements. The Data Controller is also liable to the data subject for damages caused by a data processor. The Data Controller shall be exempt from liability if it proves that the damage was caused by an unavoidable event outside the scope of data processing. No compensation shall be payable to the extent that the damage resulted from the intentional or grossly negligent conduct of the injured party.
